INSTITUTIONAL PROFILE

1.1 MISSION-VISION STATEMENT OF THE LASALLIAN FAMILY IN THE PHILIPPINES

Preamble

Deeply moved, as St. John Baptist de La Salle was, by the plight of the poor and youth at risk, we, the members of the Lasallian schools in the Philippines, commit ourselves to the Lasallian Mission of providing a human and Christian education to the young, especially in schools, with the service of the poor as priority, in order to evangelize and catechize, to promote peace and justice, accomplishing these together as shared mission. We draw strength from the many Lasallians committed to incarnating our charism in our country today to serve the needs of the Filipino youth, especially those at risk.

Declaration

Inflamed by the Holy Spirit, God's own fire, we declare our commitment to the following:

- We shall work together as a national network of Lasallian schools in the Philippines for the efficient and effective implementation of the Lasallian Mission, following the directives of the De La Salle Brothers and the Philippine Lasallian Family as set by the General Chapter, the District Chapter and the Philippine Lasallian Family Convocation;
- We shall ensure the integrity of the Lasallian Mission by setting directions and standards applicable to the Philippine Lasallian schools and by monitoring their implementation;
- We shall promote the Lasallian Mission by fostering synergy, collaboration and sharing among the Lasallian schools; and
- We shall uphold the Lasallian values of faith, zeal in service and communion in mission.

Prayer

In all these, we, together and by association, dedicate our life and work to God, who alone guarantees the fulfillment of our Lasallian dream.

1.2 INSTITUTIONAL MISSION STATEMENT

True to our Catholic tradition and inspired by St. John Baptist de La Salle, University of St. La Salle forms persons of integrity and excellence, committed to the shared mission of caring for peoples and the Earth.

1.3 MISSION STATEMENT – GRADUATE PROGRAMS

The Graduate Programs of the University of St. La Salle provide educational experiences directed towards the formation of socially responsible Christians, critical thinkers and effective communicators.

These programs are designed to extend professionals with experiences that:

- develop higher learning skills and competence responsive to the requisites of the global market and workplace;
- promote leadership in their spheres of influence and involvement;
- nurture appreciation and expertise in research; and
- provide a deeper understanding of local and global realities enabling them to commit to personal and collective action for social innovation and transformation.

These experiences are reflective of the Lasallian values of the Spirit of Faith, the Zeal for Service and Communion in Mission.

1.4 OUR ROOTS

One Man and a Dream

Our story starts with one man and a dream, over three centuries ago.

The man — John Baptiste de la Salle — was born to a wealthy family in Rheims, France on April 30, 1651. The dream was to provide education for the poor, for John Baptiste de la Salle believed that education gave hope and opportunity for men to lead better lives of dignity and freedom, lives which all men deserve as children of God.

De la Salle was a man of refined manners, a cultured mind, and great practical ability, in whom personal prosperity was balanced with kindness and affability. He lived in times, not unlike our own, where society is characterized by a great disparity between the rich and the poor, and where the few who are rich control the lives of the many who are poor, helpless, hopeless, and powerless.

Convinced that he could serve God more devotedly and concentrate on his mission more dedicatedly as a religious, de la Salle consecrated himself to God and finally became a priest at the age of 27.

Disturbed by the disparity he saw and felt around him, and firmly believing that all men and women ought to live lives more fitting for them as children of God, de la Salle devoted himself to the education of the poor, starting with recruiting young men who were out of work, training them to become good Christian teachers right in his own home, and later on transferring to other sites when his family and friends refused to accept his recruits into their homes.

Despite the strong objections and criticism from his family and friends, he pursued his mission with relentless perseverance and determination and unflagging faith and zeal, leading him to found the Brothers of the Christian Schools in 1684, when he was only 33 years old. Through this congregation of young men dedicated to serving God through the education of the poor and the Christian formation of the youth, De La Salle led the way in establishing charity schools and teacher training institutes.

Today, after over 300 years, the La Salle Brothers serve the youth in schools, colleges, universities and other apostolates in 80 countries throughout the world.

The Brothers in the Philippines

The Brothers came to the Philippines in 1911, when they were invited by the Archbishop of Manila to set up a Catholic school for the children of the upper classes in the country's capital. The Archbishop was concerned then about the growing number of American Protestant schools in the country and he sought the help of the Brothers to stem the tide of this growing influence among the children of the country's leading families.

Although the Brothers found themselves in a situation where they were providing education for the children of the elite, they endeavored to remain true to their mission by inculcating in their students a deep concern for the plight of their less privileged countrymen. It was hoped that their Lasallian education would encourage them to utilize and develop their talents and resources in serving their nation, as they were bound to succeed their fathers in taking the helm of Philippine economic, political, and cultural life.

As the Brothers in the Philippines grew in number, and as their successes allowed, they gradually established more La Salle schools in the country, schools more directly serving the needs of the poor and underprivileged through education.

1.5 BRIEF HISTORY OF THE UNIVERSITY

In 1946, an opportunity for the Brothers to set up a second La Salle school in the country came when then Bacolod City Mayor Alfredo Montelibano, Sr., offered them a ten-hectare lot where the University stands today.

In 1952, La Salle-Bacolod was established through the guidance and efforts of its three Founding Brothers: Bro. Felix Masson, Bro. Hugh Wester and Bro. Dennis Ruhland, the first Director of the school.

La Salle-Bacolod opened with 175 male students from Prep to Grade 5, under seven faculty members. The school building was unimpressive, built amidst sprawling muddy ground and bordered by cane fields of adjoining lands.

The following decade saw the expansion of La Salle from Grade School to College. This was made possible through pledges, donations, and fund drives actively supported by parents, alumni, and benefactors.

In 1966, La Salle College opened its doors to the first batch of female college students whose influence on campus life grew as more and more ladies enrolled in what used to be an exclusive school for boys. In 1987, the Integrated School started to admit female students as well.

As a Catholic institution of learning offering to both men and women an educational program designed to develop their talents and abilities towards becoming truly contributing members of society, the University of St. La Salle is committed to a curriculum that emphasizes person- development as an integrated and wholistic process of spiritual, social, intellectual and physical growth.

In 1984, the College of Nursing and the College of Engineering were opened, in addition to the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business and Accountancy, Education and the Graduate School.

The institution was elevated to University Status on July 5, 1988.

In AY 1993-1994, the College of Law was opened, and the College of Medicine in 2002.

The Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Business and Accountancy and Education have obtained

PAASCU Level 3 accreditation and the College of Engineering Level 1.

In 2000, the following programs were designated as CHED Centers of Development: Business and Accountancy, Chemical Engineering, Electronics and Communication Engineering, and Computer Engineering.

By 2001, the University was conferred the Autonomous Status by the Commission on Higher Education, one of among 30 institutions in the country granted with this prestigious and esteemed recognition.

In 2002, as an expression of its Golden Jubilee theme “Keeping Faith,” the University enshrined the statue of St. John Baptist de La Salle, the Patron Saint of Teachers, at the San Sebastian Cathedral.

Since then, the University and its stakeholders have collectively earned various recognitions and awards. Among these are -- Levels 1 to Level 3 accreditation of various programs granted by the Philippine Accrediting Association of Schools, Colleges & Universities (PAASCU), the designation of Centers of Development in a number of academic programs by the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) and remarkable ranking and top-notchers in several licensure examinations.

In 2008, USLS was among the first higher education institutions (HEIs) to earn its Institutional Quality Assurance and Monitoring Evaluation (IQUAME) rating of A(t), recognizing it as a premier teaching institution.

In 2009, the following programs were again recognized by CHED as Centers of Development (COD) from 2009 to 2012 and was extended until May 31, 2014: Accountancy, Chemical Engineering, and Computer Engineering. The College of Education was also recognized by CHED as COD in Teacher Education for the period April 2016 to December 2018.

The Autonomous Status of the University was renewed by CHED on April 1, 2016 and is valid for a period of three years.

In AY 2016-2017, USLS was recognized by CHED as one of the Delivering Higher Education Institutions (DHEI) for ten (10) graduate programs as well as one of the Sending Higher Education Institutions (SHEI) for graduate degree programs during the K to 12 Transition period.

In January 2018, the College of Business and Accountancy was re-named Yu An Log College of Business and Accountancy, as an expression of gratitude to the Yu family for its benevolence and to honor the life and legacy of Yu An Log whose generous spirit and genuine compassion are manifested in his support for various academic institutions and scholarships. The naming rights provided additional funds in support of the college’s scholarship grants, faculty development program, professorial chairs, lecture series, and facilities improvement.

Over the years, several other academic programs were opened to respond to the needs of the province and the region.

Responding to the challenges of national and international realities and to the directives of the Philippine Lasallian Family in 2009, the tertiary level of the University of St. La Salle defined its commitment to provide educational experiences which develop its Expected Lasallian Graduate Attributes (ELGA) --- socially responsible Christians, critical thinkers, and effective communicators.

Through the years, USLS has continuously embarked on significant initiatives, among them --- the verticalization of all Graduate Programs, the development of Faculty Research capabilities through the Center for Research and Engagement (CRE), the creation of the Center for Support of Higher Education and Lifelong Learning (CSHELL), setting up the Program

Advisory Councils (PAC), the strengthening of its career development program through the Career Development Center, the adoption of Christian Service – Learning Program (CSLP) in identified courses, the enhancement of its Culture and Arts Program through the Artists' Hub, the sports program campaign -- Play Hard, Study Harder, the Student Development Agenda and the Lasallian Leadership Formation Programs, the creation of Project STAY for academically – challenged students, and the provision of support for student wellbeing through the Study WithOut Teaching (SWOT).

The Graduate School

The La Salle Graduate School started in 1966 with the offering of the Master in Business Administration (MBA) program designed to assist the community prepare graduates to assume managerial positions in the business world.

Years later, a master's program in Educational Management was offered to train educational administrators and strengthen school management the city and the province.

In due time, the Graduate Scholl offered other masters and doctorate degrees in various fields of specialization, including the Project Flagships to Reach Educational Excellence (FREE) program in partnership with the Department of Education and the Eduardo Cojuangco Foundation, the Master of Arts in Conflict and Reconciliation Studies in cooperation with PAX Christi International, and the Master in Education in Marriage and Family in consortium with the Pope John Paul II Institute, the seat of the Philippine campus of the Pontifical John Paul II Institute of Studies on Marriage and Family based at the Lateran University in Rome.

The Graduate School also works toward the fulfillment of the needs of the individual student by providing modules prepared by mentors for home learning for some senior executives and managers who may not always have the time to attend classes. For some executives and managers, open learning coupled with modular classes on a one-on-one basis are provided. These approaches to graduate education are novel ways to further management skills and techniques for graduate students who are willing to improve themselves while actively engaged in their work positions.

In AY 2010-2011, as part of verticalization, the Graduate School was dissolved as an administrative unit. All graduate programs were integrated into the respective colleges where they belong.

Today, the University continues to make its presence distinctly felt as it consistently produces leaders and key actors in the fields of business enterprise and industry, banking and finance, education and healthcare, information technology and environment, and most notably, in government service.

Keeping the Dream Alive

Known for its academic excellence, social research dynamism, and active community service, the University has produced leaders in the field of business and industry, arts and culture, sports and education, various professions, and public service. In a series of events and gatherings, the institution has honored its outstanding alumni and alumnae in these fields.

As it was then, the University of St. La Salle, fired by its Founder's vision, continues to develop Christian men and women who are committed to excellence, competent in their professions and actively involved in the service of their fellowmen towards a more peaceful, just, and humane Filipino society.

1.6 PRINCIPLES OF LASALLIAN EDUCATION IN THE PHILIPPINES

St. John Baptist de La Salle and his companions discerned God's call to service in the human and spiritual distress of the poor and abandoned children. As a concrete response to this divine call, they associated together to conduct schools that would make the benefits of quality human and Christian education accessible to the poor. By giving visible and effective expression to the creative and redemptive love of God for young people, such schools became "signs of God's kingdom and instruments of salvation."

Today, the mission of human and Christian education is a wide-ranging collaborative effort entrusted to men and women of diverse backgrounds and gifts, who, in creative fidelity to de la Salle's vision, commit themselves to making the benefits of a transformative human and Christian education available to all, most especially to the poor. Each member of the Lasallian family lives out this commitment through association with a Lasallian educational project according to his or her particular role and area of competence. By our efforts to ensure the vitality, relevance, and effectiveness of the educational project, all who participate in and support such work act as partners in the educational process.

As inheritors of de La Salle's legacy and collaborators in the Lasallian mission, we are convinced that:

- Lasallian education is a mission and ministry at the service of God, the church, and society, and directed towards integral human and Christian development and liberation.
- Lasallian education is imbued with a spirit of faith, which enables persons to interpret,
- judge and evaluate realities in the light of the gospel, to unite one's actions and intentions with God's, and to rely on god's providence in acting and discerning God's will.

- Lasallian education is marked by zeal: the whole-hearted giving of oneself to the service of others, in gratuity and generosity, in creativity and fortitude, in compassion and commitment.
- Lasallian education is exercised as communion in mission marked by a fraternal spirit which enables all sectors of the school community and all those who support its work to collaborate in educating towards a world that is more humane, more just and more fraternal, a world where no one is excluded from the banquet of life.
- Lasallian education forms disciples and citizens, prophets, and professionals, who bring the transforming power of the Gospel to bear on culture and on every human endeavor in order to realize God's kingdom of truth, justice, love and peace.

Guided by these principles, we believe that...

Lasallian schools are educational communities where all sectors. . .

- participate in the church's mission and are committed to easing the plight of the vulnerable and marginalized sectors of Philippine society;
- are committed to assuring the integral human and Christian development of learners in all their uniqueness and diversity;
- are co-responsible for creating a culture and climate conducive to genuine learning and character formation;
- are stakeholders who work in association with one another in a strong spirit of fraternal solidarity; and
- are committed to continuous renewal and transformation in collaboration with others to accomplish their common mission.

Lasallian learners are unique and gifted individuals who...

- strive to integrate Gospel perspectives and values in the conduct of their daily lives;
- are committed to excellence in order to be of greater service to God and country;
- take progressive responsibility for their own learning and development;

- express concern and compassion for the plight of the vulnerable and marginalized sectors of society and respond to their needs; and
- work together creatively, constructively, and enthusiastically to support the Lasallian mission.

Lasallian educators are service-oriented professionals who. . .

- are genuinely committed to the integral human and Christian development of diverse types of learners through personal witness and service;
- are attentive to learners in their uniqueness and seek to build appropriate relationships that promote total human formation;
- are committed to life-long personal and professional improvement and service;
- work together creatively, constructively and enthusiastically both to realize the Lasallian mission and to assure the effectiveness and vitality of the institutions to which they belong; and
- serve as resources for the renewal of the church and for the integral development of society.

Lasallian educational experiences are dynamic processes that...

- challenge learners to realize their full potential by promoting critical and creative thinking, self-knowledge and self-mastery;
- bring Christian perspectives and values to bear on human knowledge and culture;
- encourage synergy, collaboration and dialogue in an environment that is fraternal, hospitable and laden with mutual respect;
- impel learners to translate their knowledge into actual practice for the betterment of society; and
- prepare learners for responsible participation in the world of work, the family, the community, the wider society and the local church.

Guided by these principles and together in faith and zeal, we aspire to create educational works of quality that will be “signs of God’s kingdom and instruments of salvation” for the various individuals and groups who seek to realize the fullness of their dignity and humanity through education.

The program is designed to help students in integrating their chosen topic into their coursework, specifically in their paper requirements. It is the objective of this program to enable the students to have an early start in their final program requirement (thesis/ dissertation/project paper). Residency Enrollment

Students who have finished all their coursework and are just working on their thesis/dissertation and practicum/internship after a semester of enrollment for thesis/dissertation writing and practicum/internship may enroll for residence.

Similarly, students who are not enrolled in any subject but who want to complete an INC, will take the comprehensive exam, or waiting for their research publication must also enroll for residence. Registration for residence should be done within the semester.

It is important to note that a student who does not intend to enroll for a specific semester for a valid reason (medical reasons), but still has remaining units to enroll, is not allowed to enroll in Residency, but should file for a Leave of Absence (LOA).

Transfer from One Master's Program to Another

Any student in the master's program may be allowed to transfer to another master's option, subject to the approval of the Dean, upon the recommendation of the Academic Coordinator, and endorsed by the Associate Dean.

Special Classes/Undersized Classes

Special classes may be requested and offered provided that it is requested by the Academic Coordinator through the Dean and addressed to Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs (VCAA).

The computation of fees for these courses follows the same formula as the undergraduate courses (which include the rate of the faculty per load x 5 months plus the 13th month and administrative expenses divided by the number of students enrolled. This is in addition to the regular tuition fees).

This class follows the Blended Learning Mode which is composed of 32 contact hours plus independent study.

An undersized class shall be treated as a special class. The Graduate School Dean is reminded to ensure that each new batch reaches the minimum number of enrollees to provide an allowance for attrition in enrollment.

Change of Subject

Changing one subject for another is allowed during the first week of classes under the following conditions:

1. if the subject originally enrolled in is dissolved
2. if the student has a conflict in schedules
3. if the student fails in the prerequisite subject

Adding of Subject/s

Adding subjects is allowed during the first week of classes upon the written approval of the Associate Dean.

Procedure:

1. Un-tag enrolment form in Business Office
2. Secure Advice Slip from Graduate School Office
3. Go through the enrolment procedure

Withdrawal of Subject

The student may withdraw subjects until the second week from the start of classes regardless of whether or not classes have been attended.

However, ten percent (10%) of the total amount due for the term if within the first week of classes, and twenty percent (20%) if within the second week will be charged. The student retains the right to withdraw all subjects at any time of the semester thereafter but will pay the full enrolment fees for the semester.

The following are the guidelines for filing for withdrawal of subject/s:

1. The student will write a letter and seek approval from the Dean.
2. Once approved, the student shall accomplish the Withdrawal Form and settle all financial obligations.
3. Accomplished Withdrawal Form copy shall be provided to the Registrar, Accounting Office and one for the student's copy.

Submission of Grades

A Professor is required to submit his/her grades within one year after the course was enrolled by the students.

Changes in Grades

Error in the entry of grades may be corrected after the professor concerned explains in writing to the Dean his/her reason for the change and secures approval. Change in grades must be done before the Registrar's submission of grades to the Commission on Higher Education (CHED).

Cross Enrollment

Coursework taken at other institutions by a regularly enrolled student is not credited unless the student has secured in advance written permission from the Dean. This written permission shall be the basis of a cross-enrollment permit to be issued by the Registrar. It is the responsibility of the student to secure a transcript of credit for an officially cross-enrolled course for inclusion in his academic record at the University of St. La Salle.

Normally, cross-enrollment is not allowed unless the student is graduating and the course is not offered during the semester in which he is supposed to graduate. A student is not allowed to cross-enroll in major elective courses and major professional courses.

Procedure:

1. Secure approval from Dean
2. Once approval has been secured, present to the Registrar for issuance of the cross-enrolment permit
3. After completion of the course, submit the grade to the Registrar for inclusion in his academic record

3.2 SCHOLARSHIP AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

Rationale

Although the University does not extend institutional scholarships at the master's and doctorate levels, it is a degree-granting partner institution of funding organizations such as government agencies, Local Government Units (LGUs), alumni associations, non-government organizations (NGOs), private schools, industrial firms, business establishments foundations and individual benefactors.

3.3 FEES AND EXPENSES

Tuition and Fees

The basic fees of the Graduate Programs of the University of St. La Salle are posted in appropriate bulletin boards at the start of each semester.

Tuition fees are charged per unit and are subject to annual increases.

Refund of Fees

A student may seek a refund if he/she withdraws during the first two weeks of classes in case pertinent tuition and other fees have been paid in full or for any length longer than one month. However, he/she is charged ten percent (10%) of the total amount due for the term if he/she withdraws within the first week of classes, and twenty percent (20%), if within the second week of classes, regardless of whether or not classes have been attended.

The student may be charged all school fees in full if withdrawal is made at any time after the second week of classes. However, if withdrawal is due to a justifiable reason, the student shall be charged pertinent fees only up to and including the last month of attendance.

Full refund shall be made to students for any courses discontinued by the school.

The school may withhold the issuance of transfer credentials to students until they have fully settled all financial obligations with the school.

Financial Delinquencies

The Graduate School reserves the right to withhold reports of grades, transcripts of records and diplomas of students who have not fully paid their accounts with the school. Students with financial delinquencies at the close of the semester will not be permitted to register in the succeeding semester unless previous accounts are settled.

Policies and Guidelines:

- Business Office will release the statement of accounts two (2) weeks before the term exam to give parents/students ample time to prepare for payments.
- Three (3) days before the exams, the Business Office will entertain request for Promissory Notes. Promissory Notes could be executed for 50% of what is due for the term.
- Non-payment of the balance as indicated in the Promissory Note will incur surcharges as follows:

1st week after the deadline	-	P 100
2nd week after the deadline	-	P 200
3rd week after the deadline	-	P 300
Beyond the 3rd week	-	P 100 per week but not to exceed P500 a month

- Failure to pay the balance indicated in the promissory note will automatically disqualify the student for succeeding promissory note.
- All faculty/proctors are expected to diligently check the exam permits during term exams. Students without Exam Permit should be sent back to the Business Office for payment arrangements.
- With the implementation of the above guidelines, the Business Office can strictly monitor the payments made on the due dates as indicated in the promissory notes.

3.4 ATTENDANCE

Limits on Absences

Students are expected to attend classes regularly. Attendance is counted from the first regular class meeting regardless of the time of registration.

The maximum number of absences allowed a student is 20% of the total number of class hours for the whole semester. A student may be excused due to the following:

- death in the family
- illness
- a graduate program activity endorsed by the Dean

In case of illness, the student is required to present a medical certificate from the USLS clinic or personal doctor. Excuses are for time missed only. All work covered in class during the absence of the student shall be made up to the satisfaction of the professor within a reasonable time from the date of the absence.

When unexcused absence of a student reaches more than 20% of the stipulated number of hours of recitation, lecture, laboratory, or any other scheduled work in one course, he/she shall automatically be dropped from the course by the professor and the student shall be given a grade of DRP with a 5.0 grade.

Approved Absence

A student who participates in any school-sponsored activity or represents the University in an official capacity is granted Approved Absence upon the approval of the Dean.

An approved absence is noted on the student's attendance record but is not counted against the allowed number of absences in the subject. The privilege, however, does not relieve him of the responsibility of making up any work missed.

Leave of Absence

A student who does not intend to enroll in a semester may apply for a leave of absence (LOA). A student on leave of absence does not sever his/her ties with the University.

A request for a leave of absence shall be made in writing to the Dean. The request should state the reason for the leave and should specify the period. The leave may be approved for a period of one (1) year but may be renewed for at most another year. LOA must be done on or before the deadline.

A student may file an LOA if the student withdraws after two weeks that the classes have already elapsed. The student will be subject to a withdrawal fee from the Cashier's office.

A student who withdraws from a college without formal leave of absence [considered "absent without leave" status or AWOL] shall have his/her registration privileges curtailed or entirely withdrawn.

The following are the guidelines for filing for a leave of absence:

1) The Dean, Associate Dean, or the duly authorized representative, shall inform the University Registrar indicating the reasons for the leave and the amount of money refunded to the student if any;

2) for a leave of absence to be availed of by the student himself/herself, during the second half of the semester, the class standing of the courses enrolled will be W (withdrawn) indicating that the student officially withdraws his/her enrollment. No refund of tuition and fees will be provided.

3) no leave of absence shall be granted during the semester within two (2) weeks before the last day of classes.

A student returning from a leave of absence (LOA) or absence without leave (AWOL) shall declare his/her intention to enroll by writing to the University Registrar through the Graduate School Dean. The latter then endorses it to the University Registrar.

If the approved title is still applicable in the present times, the same concept paper is allowed to be presented for re-defense. Otherwise, the student is required to change his/her research title/topic and go through the process of title defense over again.

Dissertation writing must be finished within three (3) years from the time of the title defense. The student is given one (1) year from the title defense to submit and defend a proposal. If the concept paper is still applicable in the present times, the same concept paper is allowed to be presented for re-defense. Otherwise, the student is required to change the title/topic and go through the process of title defense over again.

Project Paper/Thesis/Dissertation Adviser

The assignment of a Project Paper/Thesis/Dissertation Adviser may be done while the student is still taking academic courses. The Dean shall then appoint an adviser who shall be chosen on the basis of his expertise in the student's research topic following the Graduate School Research Protocols.

The choice for the adviser shall consider the following:

- The adviser shall be a faculty of the Graduate School and a holder of a doctoral degree aligned with the discipline, and has at least one publication in a refereed journal and/or produced publicly recognized creative and/or technology outputs guided by CMO 15 s. 2019;
- The adviser's selection has to give primary importance to the student's choice with the approval of the program adviser and the dean;
- The adviser's specialization should be aligned with the degree program of the advisee;
- Faculty from other universities in some circumstances can be invited to serve as adviser provided that the faculty is an adjunct faculty of the Graduate School;
- If the faculty is designated as adviser prior to the effectivity of the retirement, he/she has the option to continue to serve until the final defense
- In the exigency of service, the faculty can have more than five advisees but with the approval of the Dean.

The Research Adviser shall be responsible for:

- Help the student in the proper conduct (through regular and close monitoring) of research work according to the set timetable (as stipulated in Form 3.2) to ensure the integrity and high-quality output.
- Review/check submitted proposals, questionnaires, and other chapters/aspects of the research paper.
- Provide not only technical expertise but moral guidance as well to the student while working on the research project.
- Conduct mock defense prior to the oral defense, when necessary.
- Attend the defense of the Advisee.
- Attend orientation/s set by the Graduate School.
- Adhere to the Graduate School Research Protocols.
- Bound only to advising and shall not be selected as editor of the student, or to any other appointments related to the conduct of the study.

The student may express preference for an adviser but the Dean, Associate Dean and Research Coordinator make the final decision based on the degree, expertise, research work, number of advisees (maximum of five (5) per semester), and total workload of the faculty member. In some cases (more advisees but less number of faculty in the program), a faculty member can be assigned more than five (5) advisees.

Guidelines for Thesis/Dissertation Preparation and Defense

Guidelines for thesis/dissertation preparation and defense are as follows:

Application for Title Defense

1. Student accomplishes Form 1 - Application for Title Defense.

Requests the AC to endorse the application for the title defense to the GS research coordinator (gsresearch@usls.edu.ph), by affixing his/her (AC) e-signature. The academic coordinator also recommends a set of panel members.

Note: This must be done at least 2 weeks before the scheduled defense.

3. The Academic Coordinator endorses Form 1 and the 3 concept papers of the student to the research coordinator

(gsresearch@usls.edu.ph), CC Ms. Lyra (m.magbanua@usls.edu.ph)

4. The Research Coordinator (RC) then nominates the panel members as per recommendation of the AC, after the deliberation with the GS Research Committee.

- As far as practicable, the Chancellor shall decide the appeal within five (5) working days from receipt of the notice of appeal.

Resort of Courts

- All complainants, respondents and witnesses, upon the submission to the jurisdiction of the Committee, are expected to respect the proceedings and wait for the final resolution of the case before resorting to the courts.
- In recognition of the primary jurisdiction of the University over them, the complainants, respondents and witnesses shall be bound to respect and abide by the procedures and policies of the Committee, and shall, thus, refrain from hampering, interrupting or frustrating, willfully or otherwise, said proceedings or any incidents thereof, by obtaining any appropriate writ or process from the courts.
- Nothing in these guidelines shall be interpreted, construed or deemed to diminish the rights of the parties under the law.

Malicious Prosecution

- While the University is totally committed to the safeguarding of the rights of all members of the academic community against sexual harassment, it is likewise the policy of the University to protect the same members from any malicious accusation and prosecution involving unsubstantiated acts of sexual harassment which may, however, be in fact, baseless and even non-existent.

- While recognizing that sexual harassment involves the use of power and ascendancy by the superior against a subordinate, it must be conceded that the threat to accuse and prosecute another of acts involving alleged sexual harassment, is also an instrument to wield power over another.
- To deter malicious, vindictive, or baseless accusation and prosecution by one against another invoking alleged acts of sexual harassment, the University shall:
 1. require that all pleadings filed be under oath and duly notarized;
 2. endeavor to place the complainant, respondent and witnesses under oath whenever asked to testify during the hearings; and
 3. observe the demeanor of the complaint, respondent and witnesses as indicators of their own credibility as well as the credibility of their claims and testimonies.
